

The album "Grainular" by the inventor of recording techniques and sounds Sotiris Debonos is released on streaming/download and in a very limited CD run packaged in a metal case with a cover painted by hand.

Release Date: 2025.04.11

It contains 6 tracks.

The sound source is an electroclassic guitar driving 3 granular delays.

The multichannel recordings - in a linux environment (AV linux) - are a product of solo improvisation. Their original purpose was that of computer programming of the Mobius loop as a tool for asymmetric time segmentation in live performance conditions.
